

Joe Mayes, DDS, MSD Lubbock, TX

Dr. Joe Mayes received a bachelors of science degree from Texas Tech University. He then obtained a masters degree and his certificate in orthodontics at Baylor College of Dentistry in 1977. Prior to dental school, Dr. Mayes served, for three years, as a dental technician in the U. S. Army. Dr. Mayes has a very active specialty practice in Lubbock, Texas and also manages to find time to maintain a busy lecture schedule.

He has published and lectured on numerous orthodontic topics including STM – Simplified Treatment Mechanics and for the past several years on his approach to Herbst appliance treatment, the Cantilevered Bite Jumping appliance, CBJ.